

Kinooaadziwin Education Body Employment Opportunity: Anishinaabe Education Services Manager Job Type: Full-time, Permanent

SUMMARY

The Anishinabek Education Services Manager reports to the Associate Director of Education for the Kinooaadziwin Education Body (KEB). The Anishinabek Education Services Manager is responsible for the strategic management of education programs and services, instructional-related services, education standards, curriculum, and culture and language initiatives for the Anishinabek Education System (AES). As such, the Anishinabek Education Services Manager plays a key role in supporting the implementation of the Anishinabek Nation Education Agreement and the Master Education Agreement (together the “Agreements”). Working closely with the Regional Education Councils, the Anishinabek Education Services Manager ensures that programs and services supported by the KEB reflect the priorities and needs of the Participating First Nations (PFN). This position works collaboratively with the Multi-Year Action Plan Manager.

DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES:

Leadership and Strategic Planning

The Anishinabek Education Services Manager participates in annual planning processes for the KEB and directly supports the Associate Director of Education with the implementation of strategic directions from the PFNs and the Board of Directors. Providing leadership in resolving key education issues and advising the KEB team on language and culture matters are essential duties within this position. Strategic planning by the Anishinabek Education Services Manager ensures that programs and services are provided to the PFNs in a complementary, efficient, and effective manner, while being culturally-relevant and appropriate for the AES. The Anishinabek Education Services Manager acts as a liaison for the Regional Education Councils.

Education Programs and Services

The Anishinabek Education Services Manager works with the Regional Education Council Coordinators to coordinate the services provided through the Anishinabek Education System, and through the Agreements. As the development of the AES progresses, this will include locally developed curriculum, specialist high skills major program development, special education programs, teacher certification initiatives, Anishinabek curriculum development, continuous school improvement and the development of assessment standards. The Anishinabek Education Services Manager works closely with the Multi-Year Action Plan Manager and is the lead on several Multi-Year Action Plan projects and initiatives that relate to education programs and services, language and culture.

Advocacy, Policy, and Politics

The Anishinabek Education Services Manager advises and supports the Associate Director of Education on matters of education policy and advocacy. This position participates in appropriate committees and provides input into provincial and national policy development and consultations. As a liaison for the Regional Education Councils, the Anishinabek Education Services Manager works with the Regional Education Council Coordinators to identify and address the needs and priorities of the regions. This information informs the Anishinabek Education Services Manager, who develops and implements advocacy strategies to improve the quality of education in PFNs.

Board & Committee Support

As required by the Associate Director of Education, the Anishinabek Education Services Manager will oversee the provision of support and products to the Board of Directors. The Anishinabek Education Services Manager may be required to attend and participate in meetings with the Board of Directors, KEB committees and working groups, as identified by the Associate Director of Education.

Communications

The Anishinabek Education Services Manager works with the Senior Operations Manager and the Communications Officer to develop various communications related to education programs and services. This position also develops education-related and PFN- specific content for the communications staff to include in KEB publications, reports, social media, PFN updates, and other materials. Internally, the Anishinabek Education Services Manager is responsible for providing relevant communications to KEB staff, as required.

Financial Management

Responsible for the effective management of budgets and expenses for the Regional Education Councils, the Anishinabek Education Services Manager oversees, approves, and supports expenditures and reporting with the Regional Education Council Coordinators. The Anishinabek Education Services Manager supports the KEB management team in the development of monthly and quarterly financial reports. This position also participates in annual budget preparations and financial reporting for the KEB.

Operations

The Anishinabek Education Services Manager supports matters related to the collection and use of data and information for the AES, which informs the development of responsive programs, services, projects, and initiatives. This position advises the Senior Operations Manager and other KEB staff on the strategic development of Student Information System modules that support the education standards of the AES. The Anishinabek Education Services Manager also brings IT and operational issues to the attention of the Senior Operations Manager, as they arise.

Human Resources

Supervises, mentors, trains and coaches KEB staff that report directly to the Anishinabek Education Services Manager and contracted service providers. This includes ensuring direct reports develop annual work plans, submit quarterly reports, record weekly timesheets, engage in professional development and complete probation and annual performance evaluations, and ensuring staff compliance of KEB policies and procedures.
